OVERVIEW

Featuring Justice Jorge Labarga, Hank Coxé, Roy Black, and a very special presentation by Justice Peggy Quince.

To be held during the Bar's Annual Convention in Boca Raton, this year's Criminal Law Update promises to be our most exciting and informative program ever.

The daylong session will include our traditional "updates" -- on recent developments in Florida and federal criminal case law, new legislation and legislation on the horizon, and updates in the all-important worlds of DUI and "crimmigration," the intersection of our nation's immigration policies and criminal justice systems.

To begin the morning, Justice Labarga will share the very personal story of his rise to the bench, and how things Florida criminal justice "look" from where he sits right now.

Our spotlight presentation will update us on the arrest, prosecution, and treatment of those suffering issues with mental health, brought to us by the statewide and national leader in the field, Judge Steve Leifman.

We are also pleased to welcome Professor Christopher Slobogin of Vanderbilt Law School, to speak on his latest -- and most timely -- work, Virtual Searches: Regulating the Covert World of Technological Policing.

Our afternoon session kicks off with the one and only Justice Quince, who will speak passionately on our mutual, professional obligation not merely to serve, but to rescue our democratic Republic.

And we will end the day with the panel discussion of all panel discussions: the wise voices of our era, speaking blunt truth to power about "where we are" in Florida criminal justice, how we got here, and, most importantly, what are we going to do to ensure brighter, better criminal justice tomorrows for us all -- featuring Justice Quince, joined by Roy Black, Judge Kevin Emas, and Fifteenth Judicial Circuit Public Defender Carey Haughwout, and our moderator of all moderators, Hank Coxé.

This is a CLE event you won't want to miss! We look forward to seeing you -- at the Convention -- for the 2023 Criminal Law Update.
