In 400 words or fewer, without discussing any issue that has or may come before you as a judge, explain why you would be a good judge. Consider what relevant skills and experience you gained from previous employment that you bring to the bench. During my legal career, I have worked as plaintiff and defense counsel, handling civil and criminal matters, in state and federal court, as both a government attorney and private practitioner. My varied legal experience has served the residents of Broward County well. I understand the distinct difference between civil and criminal practice. Also, I understand both the burden and privilege of judicial office. I work diligently to ensure that every litigant that appears before me believes that their matters are fully heard and fairly considered. Many litigants are wary of the judicial system and don't understand how it is supposed to work. I am committed to ensuring that each litigant understands what is happening in their case at every stage of the litigation.
